

The 2016 arbitral victory should forever remain relevant; since the rule of law exists to set all states on an equal footing.

- 7 out of 10 agree that the Philippine Government should assert its rights over the islands in the West Philippine Sea.
- 8 out of 10 agree that the Philippines should form alliances with other countries that are ready to help defend its rights in the West Philippine Sea.

Reinforcing our external defense is just as important as strengthening our resilience against internal threats.

With the Philippine government's termination of the (Visiting Forces Agreement) "suspended", the current patrolling of U.S. forces in the disputed waters, the U.S.-Japan joint exercises, and the ASEAN's position versus China's vast historical sea claims, the condition is ripe to assert our rightful claims and create strategic opportunities to secure our national interests.

Our seas
Our islands
Our fish
Our resources
Our Philippines

THANK YOU!
